

Case Study

The client required an HEA registered contractor authorised to install festive lighting fed from street furniture. Additionally, the contractor needed the capability to maintain and repair the equipment before and during the festive period.

P&D conducted a comprehensive site survey with the client to discuss their specific requirements. We provided technical advance on electrical compliance for their equipment and delivered a detailed quotation with transparent pricing. Our team was readily available to address any queries and offer a complete start-to-finish service.

- Lighting Installation: P&D installed 10 lighting column motifs and 2 wall-mounted motifs, which we have since maintained and refurbished.
- Christmas Trees: We illuminated 3 Christmas trees using ELV fairy lights. Additionally, we installed a set of permanent fairy lights during our initial installation five years ago.
- Electrical Infrastructure: During our first visit, we installed feeder pillars to supply electrical power to the Christmas trees.

To align with the specified switch-on date, a P&D operative attends to ensure all lights are operational at the designated time. If any decoration fails, we guarantee a 24-hour response time to fix or replace the item as necessary.

P&D has successfully installed and maintained this festive lighting scheme for over five years. The client trusts P&D for a hassle-free service, meeting deadlines with high-quality work. Our responsive support ensures any unforeseen issues are promptly addressed.

“Working with P&D has been a seamless experience. Their professionalism and commitment to quality have ensured our festive decorations are always up and running. They are always just a phone call away, providing reliable support whenever needed.” Newton Parish Council Representative.

P&D provides a comprehensive service, combining electrical expertise and civil capabilities. We ensure all infrastructure and equipment comply with regulations, including the installation of feeder pillars and ducting where necessary.

Clients can trust that their festive lighting displays will remain illuminated throughout the season. All work is completed to the highest standards, ensuring compliance.
